

First, I would like to say THANK YOU! I consider it an honor that you have chosen to be in my course. I want to thank you in advance for the time and hard work that you will put into this learning experience. One of the keys to being successful in college is to maintain communication with your instructor. Feel free to e-mail, or to make an appointment if I can help you be successful in this course. I hope that your grade in this course will reflect the effort you put into it. – Vanessa Leos

South Plains College: Common Course Syllabus

Department: Behavioral Sciences

Discipline: Sociology

Course Number: Sociology 1301

Course Title: Introduction to Sociology

Semester Hour Credit: 3 Hours; 3 Lecture Hours; 0 Lab Hours (3:3:0)

This course satisfies a core curriculum requirement: Yes (Behavioral Science)

Prerequisites: none for campus; TSI reading compliance for Internet

Available Formats: Conventional and Internet

Textbook: The Real World, 5th edition, Norton Publishing. See instructor's course information sheet for textbook and on-line publisher content requirements.

Supplies: Computer and Internet access for Internet courses and campus classes.

Course Specific Instructions: Internet classes- access Blackboard from South Plains College homepage on the first day of the semester. Campus classes may use Blackboard for course material, see instructor's course information sheet for specifics.

Course description: The scientific study of human society, including ways in which groups, social institutions, and individuals affect each other. Causes of social stability and social change are explored through the application of various theoretical perspectives, key concepts, and related research methods of sociology. Analysis of social issues in their institutional context may include topics such as social stratification, gender, race/ethnicity, and deviance.

Course Purpose/Rationale/Goal: The purpose of the behavioral science component in the core curriculum is to enable the students to understand and apply sociological theories and concepts as they examine human society. To master sociology, students will be able to identify and apply the concepts and principles in the study of group life, social institutions, and social processes.

Course Requirements: To maximize the potential to complete this course, students should attend all classes, log into Blackboard multiple times per week, read required textbook/course materials, complete required homework/assignments and/or examinations. See instructor's course information sheet for specifics.

Course Evaluations: Refer to Instructor's course information sheet for specifics coursework and grading.

Attendance Policy: Students are expected to attend all classes in order to be successful in a course. The student may be administratively withdrawn from the course when absences become excessive as defined in the course syllabus.

When an unavoidable reason for class absence arises, such as illness, an official trip authorized by the college or an official activity, the instructor may permit the student to make up work missed. It is the student's responsibility to complete work missed within a reasonable period of time as determined by the instructor. Students are officially enrolled in all courses for which they pay tuition and fees at the time of registration. Should a student, for any reason, delay in reporting to a class after official enrollment, absences will be attributed to the student from the first class meeting.

Students who enroll in a course but have "Never Attended" by the official census date, as reported by the faculty member, will be administratively dropped by the Office of Admissions and Records. A student who does not meet the attendance requirements of a class as stated in the course syllabus and does not officially withdraw from that course by the official census date of the semester, may be administratively withdrawn from that course and receive a grade of "X" or "F" as determined by the instructor. Instructors are responsible for clearly stating their administrative drop policy in the course syllabus, and it is the student's responsibility to be aware of that policy.

It is the student's responsibility to verify administrative drops for excessive absences through MySPC using his or her student online account. If it is determined that a student is awarded financial aid for a class or classes in which the student never attended or participated, the financial aid award will be adjusted in accordance with the classes in which the student did attend/participate and the student will owe any balance resulting from the adjustment.

See instructor's Course Information Sheet for additions to the attendance policy.

Disability Services Policy: Students with disabilities, including but not limited to physical, psychiatric, or learning disabilities, who wish to request accommodations in this class should notify the Disability Services Office early in the semester so that the appropriate arrangements may be made. In accordance with federal law, a student requesting accommodations must provide acceptable documentation of his/her disability to the Disability Services Office. For more information, call or visit the Disability Services Office at Levelland Student Health & Wellness Center 806-716-2577, Reese Center (also covers ATC) Building 8: 806-716-4675, Plainview Center Main Office: 806-716-4302 or 806-296-9611, or the Health and Wellness main number at 806-716-2529. See South Plains College General Catalog for more information.

Academic Integrity Policy: It is the aim of the faculty of South Plains College to foster a spirit of complete honesty and a high standard of integrity. The attempt of any student to present as his or her own any work which he or she has not honestly performed is regarded by the faculty and administration as a most serious offense and renders the offender liable to serious consequences, possibly suspension.

- Cheating: Dishonesty of any kind on examinations or on written assignments, illegal possession of examinations, the use of unauthorized notes during an examination, obtaining information during an examination from the text-book or from the examination paper of another student, assisting others to cheat, alteration of grade records, illegal entry or unauthorized presence in an office are examples of cheating. Complete honesty is required of the student in the presentation of any and all phases of course work. This applies to quizzes of whatever length, as well as to final examinations, to daily reports and to term papers.
- Plagiarism: Offering the work of another as one's own, without proper acknowledgment, is plagiarism; therefore, any student who fails to give credit for quotations or essentially identifiable expression of material taken from books, Internet resources, encyclopedias, magazines and other reference works, or from the themes, reports or other writings of a fellow student, is guilty of plagiarism.

See South Plains College Student Guide and South Plains College General Catalog for more information.

Also, see instructor's course information sheet for more information.

Student Conduct Policy:

- Classroom Conduct: Failure to comply with lawful direction of a classroom teacher relative to maintaining good order is considered misconduct on the part of the student. Repeated violations of disrupting a class may result in the student being dropped from that course.
- See South Plains College Student Guide for full policy covering other areas of conduct including penalties for misconduct and procedures for disciplinary action.

Campus Concealed Carry Policy:

Texas Senate Bill - 11 (Government Code 411.2031, et al.) authorizes the carrying of a concealed handgun in South Plains College buildings only by persons who have been issued and are in possession of a Texas License to Carry a Handgun. Qualified law enforcement officers or those who are otherwise authorized to carry a concealed handgun in the State of Texas are also permitted to do so. Pursuant to Penal Code (PC) 46.035 and South Plains College policy, license holders may not carry a concealed handgun in restricted locations. For a list of locations, please refer to the SPC policy at:

(http://www.southplainscollege.edu/human_resources/policy_procedure/hhc.php)

Pursuant to PC 46.035, the open carrying of handguns is prohibited on all South Plains College campuses. Report violations to the College Police Department at 806-716-2396 or 9-1-1.

Grade and Academic Discipline Appeals: South Plains College provides two procedures which allow students the opportunity to address grievances of an academic nature.

- Appeal Restrictions: Only final grades or dismissal resulting from academic discipline will be considered. The instructor's teaching ability or expertise will not be considered during the hearing. No grade or disciplinary action can be formally appealed after a period of six (6) months from the date that the student is informed
- Informal Appeal
 - The student should schedule an appointment with the instructor of the course to discuss the final grade or disciplinary action.
 - 2. If the student is still not satisfied, she should schedule an appointment with the appropriate departmental chairperson to discuss the situation. The chairperson may request that the instructor also be present.
 - 3. If the student is still not satisfied, he she should schedule an appointment with the Divisional Dean to discuss the situation. The dean may request that the chairperson also be present.
 - 4. If the student is still not satisfied, he she should be advised of the formal appeal process.
- Formal Appeal: If the student is not satisfied with the results of the informal appeal, s/he should provide the following information, in writing, to the Vice President for Academic Affairs:
 - A request for a formal appeals hearing.
 - 2. A brief statement of what is being appealed.
 - 3. The basis for the appeal.
 - 4. Pertinent facts relating to the appeal.
- The agenda of the appeals hearing will include only those factors documented in the student's appeal request letter. The Vice President for Academic Affairs will determine the date, time and place of the hearing, and notify the student accordingly.
- The Hearing
 - Composition of the appeals committee:
 - Vice President for Academic Affairs will preside over the hearing.
 - Faculty member of the student's choice.
 - Faculty member and student selected by the Vice President for Academic Affairs.
 - President of Student Government Association.
 - Dean of Students.
 - Other persons who should be available at the hearing:
 - The student who requested the hearing.
 - The faculty member involved.
 - Anyone the student or faculty member wishes to be present to substantiate the case.
 - Chairperson and Divisional Dean.
 - Hearing procedure:
 - The committee will hear the student's appeal during which the parties to the controversy and such representatives as desired will present all facts relating to the case. By majority vote, the committee will decide to sustain, amend or reverse the previous decision.

- The decision of the committee is final and completes the academic appeals procedure.

See South Plains College Student Guide for more information.

Equal Rights Policy: All students are entitled to equal rights under the affirmative action and equal opportunity laws. Students are also protected against unjust or biased academic evaluation, but at the same time, they are responsible for maintaining standards of academic performance established for each course in which they are enrolled. See South Plains College Student Guide.

Course Information Sheet
Fall 2017
SOCI1301.004- Introduction to Sociology
2:30pm-3:45pm, TR, Room AD149, on Levelland campus
Instructor: Vanessa Leos

Office Hours:

- By Appointment: Students must call, email, or discuss meetings face to face with me and we will find a time that works for both of us to meet and discuss your concerns regarding this course. Do be sure to keep appointments as my time is just as valuable as yours. Email Address: vanessa.leos@ttu.edu (preferred method of contact)

Classroom Behavior:

I have few classroom rules but feel obligated to discuss disruptive behavior* and what it means in a college classroom. First, we are all adults therefore I would appreciate having your attention when I lecture and when another student is speaking. That means that you will direct comments to the entire class and not just to those seated near you. Do not get “personal” when discussing topics (this entails that a student should not verbally attack or be attacked by anyone in the classroom). Secondly, it is very rude to send text messages, read papers or sleep in class. If you feel the need to do any of these you may be asked to leave and return the next class day after meeting with me to discuss the matter in question. Lastly, cell phones are commonplace but are inappropriate in class. If you have one, please mute or turn it off during class. If you feel the need to use your cell phone in any manner (calling, texting, checking the time) you should be aware that this is not appropriate and will not be tolerated. If you are texting in class I will ask you to leave and you will be counted absent for that day as you cannot concentrate on two things at once. If you are expecting a phone call for emergency reasons please notify me BEFORE class. SMART WATCHES WILL NOT BE ALLOWED DURING EXAMS. Such devices MUST be put away before the exam begins. Failure to do so may result in a zero for that exam. Tobacco products of any kind may not be used during class including but not limited to pipes, cigarettes, cigars, chewing tobacco, snuff, SNUS, and/or electronic cigarettes. To further clarify: *Disruptive behavior includes but is not limited to being rude to an instructor or other students, walking out of class before class ends, making “side comments” to other students, or any other non-adult behavior as defined by the instructor. See the Student Guide for details regarding SPC policy concerning student conduct.

Academic Integrity:

Upon violation of any standard of academic integrity, students may be required to redo the work (possibly for a reduced grade), redo the exam (possibly in an alternate form), receive a zero for the assignment/exam or be dropped from the course with an “X” or “F” depending on the student’s current standing in the course.

Diversity:

In this class, the teacher will establish and support an environment that values and nurtures individual and group differences and encourages engagement and interaction. Understanding and respecting multiple experiences and perspectives will serve to challenge and stimulate all of us to learn about others, about the larger world and about ourselves. By promoting diversity and intellectual exchange, we will not only mirror society as it is, but also model society as it should and can be.

Health and Wellness Center:

South Plains College offers all full-time students taking at least six (6) semester hours on the Levelland Campus a medical treatment center with the services of a licensed physician and a registered nurse. Qualified students needing to see a doctor should go to the Health Services Office before 10:30 a.m. to complete records and make an appointment. The office is open from 7:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. Physician's hours are limited to one or two hours per day, Monday through Thursday. Times are posted at the clinic.

Mental Health Services:

Free counseling services are available through the Student Health and Wellness office. Counseling is available for ANY issues students may be experiencing. If you have any questions do not hesitate to speak to me. I have interest in your success as a student AND an individual! (See Health Services in the College Catalog pg. 54) Office telephone number to schedule appointments: (806) 716-2529.

Attendance:

Absences:

For classes that meet four times per week:

- If you miss four or more class periods, you may be dropped from the course with an “X or an F” for the course (depending on your grades accrued at the time of the drop). THIS IS IMPORTANT: It is your responsibility to withdraw from the course if you do not attend.
- There are no “excused absences” in this course. It is the student’s responsibility to attend class and get lecture notes from classmates if a class meeting is missed.
- IF you are sick and contagious when an assignment is due, DO NOT COME TO CLASS and risk getting your fellow students (and me) sick. Email me your assignment BEFORE the beginning of class.
- You must attend the class you have enrolled in to receive attendance credit, if issues arise related to work schedules or child care please speak to me about possible ways we can deal with such matters.
- If a student misses TWO CONSECUTIVE WEEKS OF CLASS the student may be dropped from the course.
- If you are going to miss class communicate with the instructor before you miss class or immediately following your absence.

Tardiness:

Two tardies or early exits will count as one (1) absence. Being late to class is very disruptive and rude. It is suggested (strongly) that you allow enough time in your schedule to arrive a few minutes early to class. If you leave class early, that may count as a tardy or an absence depending on the time you leave and the way you leave class. If you are tardy it is your responsibility to approach me after class and make sure that you are on the roll for that day to be counted as tardy and not absent. Attendance will be taken every class. You are enrolled in this course and it is your JOB to attend class regularly, thus you should do your best to be in your seat prepared for class before the appointed class start time.

Role is taken by students signing a role sheet in EVERY class meeting. Failure to sign in will result in being counted absent. It is the STUDENT’S RESPONSIBILITY to ensure they sign in for EVERY class. Having a classmate sign in for you when you are not present may result in you being DROPPED from the class an “X” or “F”! The same goes for students who themselves fill in missed class periods following and absence. If there is an issue with your attendance please discuss such matters with the instructor. A student who is tardy must use a “T” with a circle around it for attendance instead of their initials on the roll sheet.

South Plains College email and Blackboard:

Your official SPC email will be the official way that I contact you. Outline versions of the PowerPoint will be provided in class. Blackboard may be utilized during the semester at the instructor’s discretion. Provision of the PowerPoint notes is so that you can concentrate on what I am saying rather than only writing down what is on the PowerPoint.

When emailing professors you should use correct spelling, grammar and punctuation. Do not use text speak or computer shorthand. This will increase the clarity of your message/question and give the impression that you care about the course. Also, if you email a professor you should expect a response within a reasonable timeframe so act accordingly. Students MUST check their email and blackboard accounts on a REGULAR BASIS (this means daily or at least every other day).

Grading and Testing:

- 5-Exams (100 points each, 400 points total):

Exams will be based on a combination of lecture, assigned readings, videos and class discussions. If you miss class you will miss vital information. Tests must be taken during your scheduled class time. Exams may be a combination of true/false, multiple choice and essay questions designed to test your knowledge and understanding of concepts covered during the course of this class. The final exam is NOT cumulative.

If you miss a test, that is considered a “0”. If you experience an extreme emergency or conflict prior to an exam and notify me BEFORE the exam one attempt will be made to allow the student to complete the missed exam following provision of documentation (speak to me regarding what will constitute valid documentation). If the student misses this makeup exam the student will have earned a zero for the missed exam. If there is a conflict with a religious holiday, please let me know now. All exam dates are listed in the syllabus.

Five exams will be available to each student. However, I will take the 4 highest exam scores to calculate the final grade for the course. This means 1 exam can be missed, the lowest exam grade out of the five will be dropped, or the student can be exempt from the final exam.

- 1-Major Assignment (100 points):

The primary writing assignment in this class will be a social breach assignment which will require students to submit a proposal, then following approval of your proposal you will break a social norm (numerous times) then complete a write-up of your experience. A detailed assignment will be given to students with sufficient time to complete the assignment by the corresponding deadlines. Assignments are not accepted late, so be aware of class deadlines.

- 1-Race and Media Assignment (50 points):

Race and media assignment: A detailed assignment will be given to students with sufficient time to complete the assignment by the corresponding deadlines. Assignments are not accepted late, so be aware of class deadlines.

- Greg Abbott Communication Points (5 assignments at 10 points apiece for a total of 50 points):

GREG ABBOTT COMMUNICATION POINTS: On five randomly chosen days during the semester, 10 points will be awarded to everyone as we measure students' progress in developing Communication Skills. This is a State requirement and relates to the class fulfilling Core Curriculum Credit. These will be in-class exercises in visual, oral, and written communication. 100 points can be earned in this way. YOU MUST BE IN CLASS THAT DAY TO EARN THESE POINTS. NO MAKE-UPS. This is, in effect, also a way of tracking attendance. If you miss one of the 10 non-exam class periods this semester, there is about a 20% chance it will cost you 10 points.

- Chapter Quizzes (10 quizzes at 10 points apiece for a total of 100 points):

Students will be required to complete a chapter quiz for each chapter we cover in class. Each chapter quiz will be due before or shortly after the chapter discussion is begun in class. Each chapter quiz will be worth 10 points. If more than ten chapters are covered during the semester, the ten highest grades for each student will be used to calculate this grade. Quizzes will consist of five to ten questions and will be posted on Blackboard. If we do not have ten quizzes throughout the semester the missing points will be disregarded from the grading scheme. (Ex. If there are eight quizzes we will only have 80 points for this category.) This should be an easy grade for students and should also encourage students to actually read the course material. This practice can help maximize student learning and improve exam grades.

- Journal Submissions (Two assignments worth 50 points apiece for 100 points total):

Over the course of the semester students will be required to make journal entries pertaining to chapter readings, videos viewed inside or outside class, discussion questions, key concepts, reactions to certain topics, or other class related issues. Journals will be submitted online via Blackboard. Deadlines will be stated in class and listed on Blackboard. Topics and corresponding due dates for journal assignments will be announced in a timely fashion. Students MUST check their email and blackboard accounts on a REGULAR BASIS (this means daily or at least every other day).

- Point breakdown:

You will have five/four (5/4) exams, each worth 100 points (400 points total), one (1) major writing assignment, worth 100 points, one (1) Race and Media Assignment, worth (50 points total), five (5) Greg Abbott Communication Points, each worth 10 points (50 points total), ten (10) chapter quizzes (100 points total); two (2) journal assignments (50 points apiece, totaling 100 points) and an attendance grade worth 100 points for a complete total of 800 points over the course of the semester.

Your grade will be based upon the accumulation of points. The grading breakdown is as follows:

720 to 800	A
640 to 719	B
560 to 639	C
480 to 559	D
479 and below	F

Students are encouraged to come by during office hours to discuss their grades and any other class related questions as I do not discuss grades through email.

Final Exam Schedule for SOC-1301:

SOC1301.004 → Tuesday, December 12th, 1-3PM

Readings for Class:

Students are expected to read the chapters before the corresponding lecture. There are two reasons for this. First, you will have some familiarity with the material and therefore the lectures will have a lot more meaning for you. Second, if there is something that you didn't understand in the text you can point it out to me and I can clarify it to you. You will be tested over the lectures as well as the readings. The first thing you should read in each chapter is the visual summary located at the end of the chapter. Next go through the chapter noting highlighted words. You are responsible for the higher level concepts covered in the text, but it is impossible for you to understand these if the book is using words you don't understand! Use the glossary of the book and a sociological dictionary if this will help you. The people who read and comprehend well think and read at the same time. Read the questions at the end of the chapter first and then read the chapter looking for the answers as you read. Write in your book if it helps. Examples of the concepts that you can remember: What you understand, what you don't, anything to help!

Writing Expectations for Class:

All written assignments should be presented using the conventions of Standard Written English. South Plains College requires all students to become proficient in "academic English," a form of English that is typically used in academic, professional, and business contexts. While slang, regional idioms, and informal kinds of self-expression are appropriate in some contexts, they are out of place in academic writing. Writing instructors and professors in courses across the campus expect all students to demonstrate proficiency in using the conventions of academic English in their written work, whether it is in-class exams or take-home essays.

Writing Tips:

- All written work should be typed (or computer generated), double spaced, with one inch margins (all around), Times New Roman font and in a standard 12 point font. Please use Word for attachments.

- Any references used should be listed at the end of the paper using one of the widely accepted format styles. This should not be an issue in this class, but IF you happen to ever use an outside source keep in mind: Using ANY outside material without proper documentation constitutes plagiarism which is a serious academic offense. Wikipedia is not considered a valid academic source. Do not use it!
- All definitions should be drawn from the text book (or lecture).
- DO NOT USE ANY “ESSAY” websites for this course that provide prepared responses to assignments.
- For the assignments in this class, it is better to write using first or third person pronouns. Therefore it is appropriate to use "I, me, mine" or "he, she, their, we." It is not appropriate to use "you" or "your." Please avoid writing in 2nd person.
- Tutoring services are available in building 2 (math) and 3 (English) of the Reese campus and you are encouraged to utilize these services at no charge.

Additional Information:

- Students will need access to and will be required to use a word processing program for this course. If you do not such access at home there are many computers for you to use across the Levelland and Reese campuses.
- Online study tools are available for your text. You are encouraged to use these, especially as preparation for the class exams.
- EXTRA CREDIT will be given solely at the instructor’s discretion (do NOT ask for extra credit ESPECIALLY at the end of the semester, hence no “is there anything I can do to increase my grade...” or other such emails at the end of the semester). The answer will be “NO”. The time to be concerned about your grade is now. Your steadfast attendance, studious habits and preparation for class should facilitate your success in this, and other, college courses.
- Be sure to proofread your work for grammatical and spelling errors. Use the "enable html" button within the email, assignments, and discussion functions to run a spell check. Also, remember that "healthy" paragraphs are usually comprised of at least three sentences organized around a central idea, though a paper filled with three sentence paragraphs would be awkward.
- Do not attempt to add me as a friend via Facebook during the semester. This is an attempt to circumvent any issues which might arise from such connections. Following the semester you are more than welcome to add me as a FB friend.
- Guests are NOT allowed in class unless the instructor gives approval. Prior notice should be provided if at all possible.
- If you have any medical or other condition I should be aware of I would appreciate you discussing this matter with me under the assurance of confidentiality.
- Computer use in class is prohibited unless discussed with the instructor. If a computer is allowed in class and a student is believed to be using this device for any purpose not directly related to class the student may be required to abstain from future computer use during class.
- The course agreement MUST be signed by the deadline or you will be penalized for your inability to follow instructions. This penalty may include dismissal from lecture, inability to earn attendance points or being dropped from the course. It is absolutely necessary that you officially recognize your rights and responsibilities as a member of this class.

- *This course involves controversial topics which may challenge or conflict with your existing beliefs and may require you to go outside your comfort zone. We will examine oppression privilege and inequality from a variety of expert, academic, and research perspectives. Although you are not expected to accept or concur with the perspectives, attitudes, and beliefs of the instructor, authors, or fellow classmates, you must at least consider other perspectives and interact with others respectfully.
- I am open to any concerns you have during this course. Confidentiality is guaranteed.
- LASTLY...thank you for selecting this course and ensuring I have a job! I look forward to a wonderful semester...I hope you do too!

Course Agreement

I have received a copy of the course syllabus. I have reviewed the syllabus thoroughly. I understand the course format, attendance, drop policy, classroom behavior, Blackboard, SPC email, assignment and examination system. I further understand my responsibilities and rights as explained by the instructor. I also understand that this course deals with controversial/difficult topics. I understand I do not have to agree with the professor or the course materials but that I must demonstrate an understanding of the material. I will discuss any issues I have concerning the class material and/or discussion with the professor. I agree to all the course requirements as stated in the syllabus.
