When an unavoidable reason for class absence arises, such as illness, an official trip authorized by the college or an official activity, the instructor may permit the student to make up work missed. It is the student's responsibility to complete work missed within a reasonable period of time as determined by the instructor. Students are officially enrolled in all courses for which they pay tuition and fees at the time of registration. Should a student, for any reason, delay in reporting to a class after official enrollment, absences will be attributed to the student from the first class meeting.

Students who enroll in a course but have "Never Attended" by the official census date, as reported by the faculty member, will be administratively dropped by the Office of Admissions and Records. A student who does not meet the attendance requirements of a class as stated in the course syllabus and does not officially withdraw from that course by the official census date of the semester, may be administratively withdrawn from that course and receive a grade of "X" or "F" as determined by the instructor. It is the student's responsibility to verify administrative drops for excessive absences through MySPC using his or her student online account. If it is determined that a student is awarded financial aid for a class or classes in which the student never attended or participated, the financial aid award will be adjusted in accordance with the classes in which the student did attend/participate and the student will owe any balance resulting from the adjustment.

General Course Information

Course Description: Social Welfare: Legislation, Programs and Services: This course offers a historical and contemporary examination of legislation and resulting programs, policies, and services in the context of the social welfare system in the United States. Special attention is given to the political, economic, environmental, and social conditions that prompted the development of legislation to meet the needs of vulnerable populations. Societal responses to legislation are also considered

- Learning Outcomes
- Differentiate and be able to describe Policy and Legislation
- Explain how legislation influences service deliver
- Trace the history of major pieces of social welfare legislation
- Describe how political ideology and social construction of vulnerable population influence development of legislation and societal responses
- Compare and contrast residual and institutional views of social welfare
- Articulate how Social Workers can actively and ethically engage in the political process to address social Justice Issues

Course Competencies:

Each student will learn to examine the different characteristics of legislation and policy, and see whom these things impact. Students will become more familiar with the nomenclature of the profession of Social Work, and how these terms are used. Since you are taking this class, you are now a Social Worker and therefore will go beyond "personal" views in order to be objective. Objectivity does not mean that you accept or approve but only that you intellectually understand. In many cases, understanding will lead you to broaden yourself not only as an individual but also as a member of society.

Academic Integrity- See College Catalog, p. 23.

Unfortunately, it is necessary to remind all students that any form of cheating will not be tolerated. Cheating is cheating, whether plagiarism or copying another student's exam. Since the Internet has become a common source of information, it is important that you understand plagiarism and not neglect to include citations or footnotes on all papers. Please do not put yourself or others in the position of having cheated. If you are caught cheating at my discretion you may be removed from class.

Classroom Behavior:

Although this is an online course there are still acceptable and unacceptable behaviors. I do want you to feel the academic freedom to ask questions of myself and other students. I do want all questions though to be academic in nature and respectful. We will cover many controversial subjects (race, sexuality, class) and I want you all to feel comfortable asking questions but there is to be no name calling during discussions and all posts must be respectful of everyone in the class. Also see the Attendance section!!

Attendance:

While this is an online class there will obviously not be the need for physical attendance. However working at regular intervals is paramount in student success so you need to be involved in the class every week either through your discussion topics, or handing in assignments. If you are not attending or participating in the course you may be dropped. If you miss four or more than four assignments over the course of the semester I may drop you with an X or an F. This includes missing discussions, papers, or tests. You must do all of the activities in the class to be a part of the class. If you are not fully participating in discussions (doing the introductory post but not responding to others, or vice versa) and this becomes a pattern these may be counted in your missed assignments.

If you have a life circumstance that you believe warrants being excused from class work, it is your responsibility to inform me of this situation as soon as possible. This does not mean at the end of the semester, but rather when the situation happens. Most of the time I will NOT extend deadlines other than one chance per student per semester. Once per semester I will extend a deadline for a regular module. This does NOT include the discussion. I will only give this to each student one time per semester. You must let me know if you want this prior to Nov 16. I cannot extend any modules after that date. This is your only "bonus points" opportunity for the semester. No other opportunities are available for this class.

Accommodations:

Students with disabilities, including but not limited to physical, psychiatric, or learning disabilities, who wish to request accommodations in this class should notify the Disability Services Office early in the semester so that the appropriate arrangements may be made. In accordance with federal law, a student requesting accommodations must provide acceptable documentation of his/her disability to the Disability Services Office. For more information, call or visit the Disability Services Office at Levelland (Student Health & Wellness Office) 806-716-2577, Reese Center (Building 8) 806-716-4675, or Plainview Center (Main Office) 806-716-4302 or 806-296-9611.

Grading and Testing:

There are no exams in this course but there are 14 Learning Modules that range in point value from 50 points to 450 points. Many of these assignments are in the MindTap software. Other graded assignments include discussions, journals, and the final PowerPoint research project.

Instructor Expectations: While much of the syllabus details what I expect of you as a student this section deals with what you can expect of me. If you send me an email on M, T, W, R, or F (by noon), you can expect a response within 24 hours. This does not mean that I will know the answer to your question, but if I do not then I will at least respond and let you know I got your email and am working on it. If you email on Friday afternoon, Sat or Sun then I may get back to you that day, but you can expect to hear from me by Monday afternoon. When grading assignments I will have everything graded within a week of when it was originally due. This includes discussions and exams. The only exception to this one-week rule are your papers. I will try to have those graded within a week but sometimes may fall behind. I will however have them graded and returned to you with feedback at least two weeks before the next paper is due. Feedback is very important and I will use it on the discussions as well as the papers. It is important that you read the feedback so that you do not repeat the same mistakes and lose points again for something that can be avoided. If you feel that I am not keeping up my end of the bargain as an instructor I certainly want you to feel free to speak with me about it. You can do this through email or a phone call. If for some reason you feel that you cannot talk to me about it then I would welcome you to speak with my Department Chair Dr. Peggy Skinner. Textbook:

The Cengage Unlimited subscription is required for this class. You may buy the paper version of the books BUT even if you do that you are required to buy the Cengage Unlimited subscription which contains the books already. This is the only way you can access the MindTap software which is where many of the assignments are located.

IMPORTANT NOTE:

PARTICIPATION IN THIS CLASS WILL SIGNIFY YOUR ACCEPTANCE OF ALL CLASS AND SPC POLICIES. FAILURE TO ABIDE BY THESE POLICIES WILL RESULT IN EXPULSION FROM CLASS AND AN "F" FOR THE SEMESTER REGARDLESS OF RACE, ETHNICITY, SEX, RELIGION OR SEXUAL ORIENTATION.

Reading- You will have to read the textbook. There is no way around this. No short cuts, no alternative plan. If you give this class the same attention that you were to give a face to face class I am sure you can be successful. Remember a face to face class has 2 ½ hours of lecture time each week. You need to use that time to read and learn the material. Most of the assignments in this course deal with application. It is almost impossible to apply something if you do not understand it. You also cannot pass the class without doing the online assignments that are a part of the reading.

Discussions- for many modules in this course, there will be a threaded discussion under the discussion tab in Blackboard. You are to answer the question posed in the discussion topic area. Most of the time these discussions will be applying the chapter we have read to some element of popular culture. You will not be able to do this well without reading first! You will not be able to see any other student's work until you create your own original post, to prevent students from simply copying others work. For your initial posting you need to have at least a 6-8 sentence well-formed paragraph. You are also required to respond to at least two (2) other student's postings. Comment on how their posting is similar to or different from your own. If you cannot make a 6-8 sentence paragraph responding to a single student then respond to 4 to 5. These discussion topics will only when the class starts, if you wish to work ahead, but once they close, they are closed. Your original thread that you create with your name as the title is due 11:00 PM on Thursday of the week that the discussion closes. The responses will be due by 11:00 PM on Saturday. For example if a discussion closes on Saturday, September 28, the initial post which is your response to the discussion prompt with your name as a title has to be posted by 11:00 PH on Thursday and then you have 2 days, until 11:00 Saturday to post your response to other students. Remember you do not have to wait until Thursday or Saturday to do the work, that is simply the deadline before which the work must be posted on line. To earn the most points for a discussion you must follow the directions of the assignment as well as fully answer the questions posed by the discussion prompt and integrate what you have learned in the textbook into your work.

Calendar- There is a calendar that I will load into your blackboard course that lets you know what assignments are due. Please pay attention to it as staying on schedule is important in school and especially so in an online course. All assignments will be due at 11:59PM. This includes Journals, Discussions, Learning Modules, and Projects. Late work will not be accepted or graded.

If you have any questions please contact me. I realize that online courses may seem overwhelming but I am confident that we can work together to enhance your learning in the course. I will work with you and help you to understand what is expected of you.

Diversity Statement

In this class, the teacher will establish and support an environment that values and nurtures individual and group difference and encourages engagement and interaction. Understanding and respecting multiple experiences and perspectives will serve to challenge and stimulate all of us to learn about others, about the larger world and about ourselves. By promoting diversity and intellectual exchange, we will not only mirror society as it is, but also model society as it should and can be.

Disabilities Statement

Students with disabilities, including but not limited to physical, psychiatric, or learning disabilities, who wish to request accommodations in this class should notify the Disability Services Office early in the semester so that the appropriate arrangements may be made. In accordance with federal law, a student requesting accommodations must provide acceptable documentation of his/her disability to the Disability Services Office. For more information, call or visit the Disability Services Office at Levelland (Student Health & Wellness Office) 806-716-2577, Lubbock Centers (located at the Lubbock Downtown Center) 806-716-4675, or Plainview Center (Main Office) 806-716-4302 or 806-296-9611.

Non-Discrimination Statement

South Plains College does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, disability or age in its programs and activities. The following person has been designated to handle inquiries regarding the non-discrimination policies: Vice President for Student Affairs, South Plains College, 1401 College Avenue, Box 5, Levelland, TX 79336. Phone number 806-716-2360.

Title IX Pregnancy Accommodations Statement

If you are pregnant, or have given birth within six months, under Title IX you have a right to reasonable accommodations to help continue your education. To activate accommodations you must submit a Title IX pregnancy accommodations request, along with specific medical documentation, to the Health and Wellness Center. Once approved, notification will be sent to the student and instructors. It is the student's responsibility to work with the instructor to arrange accommodations. Contact the Health and Wellness Center at 806-716-2529 or email dburleson@southplainscollege.edu for assistance.
